

March 27-28, 2025
Johannes Kepler University of Linz, Austria

In the present turbulent macroeconomic environment amidst multiple crises, it is key to properly characterize macroeconomic shocks and policy challenges arising for fiscal and monetary authorities. This workshop aims at discussing topical research and recent advances in empirical macroeconomics. Papers presented at the workshop are expected to make innovative use of macro and / or micro data and state-of-the-art methods.

Paper Submission

We invite submission of full papers on topics in empirical macroeconomics until January 5, 2025 via email to empmacro2025@uibk.ac.at. Contributions will be selected based on a peer-review process and notifications of acceptance will be sent out by January 26, 2025.

Venue

The workshop takes place at the beautiful campus of Johannes Kepler University (JKU) Linz, Austria, and offers participants with a unique opportunity for networking as well as scenic views and tasty food from the region.

Registration and Contact

Upon notification of acceptance, please confirm your attendance to the workshop by February 16, 2025 via email to empmacro2025@uibk.ac.at. Please make sure to use the same email address for all queries related to the workshop.

Organizers

Max Breitenlechner, University of Innsbruck
Martin Geiger, Liechtenstein Institute
Jochen Güntner, Johannes Kepler University of Linz

Johann Scharler, University of Innsbruck
Marios Zachariadis, University of Cyprus

